UUID-GUID Generator Portable Download

UUID-GUID Generator Portable Product Key is a Delphi application designed to generate unique identifiers. It generates identifiers without braces, and it remembers the braces style of the generator. It can also generate identifiers with braces, use the paste option to paste generated identifiers in other applications, and it can convert the identifier for those apps that need it. The generator will generate new identifiers on the fly, based on the settings that the user chooses. New identifiers will be added to a list that will be cleared after the next restart. Generated identifiers are all shown as buttons in the main window (you can click any button to add the identifier to the list and to view the short text representation of the identifier). The user can select a color for the identifier.

What's New In UUID-GUID Generator Portable?

A simple utility to create unique identifiers of type GUID without knowing them beforehand Also easily lets you generate an identifier of type UUID without knowing them beforehand Supports custom identifier size. No need to implement your own algorithm, for example if you need a GUID with 128 characters long To create a new GUID/UUID in the correct format, simply enter the data you need in the right boxes. All of the data including the braces is optional. Run the form in Normal or Accented mode. The accents are provided for the languages Danish, French, Spanish, Russian, German, Japanese, Simplified Chinese, Traditional Chinese, Turkish, Korean, Greek, Arabic and Simplified Arabic. This utility uses a modified version of the Java UID generator from a prior version of this form and the Windows LUID generator from the class of JWZ. The modifications included:

- Adds initialisation time to the username field to make the GUI more responsive. The default value is the empty string ""
- Adds initialisation time to the password field to make the GUI more responsive. The default value is the empty string "" Adds a Enable user name field to the same tab as the password field. This field will default to Yes. Changing this value from Yes to No will stop the generator from prompting you for a user name Added a Password strength indication field. When the strength indicator is set to "WARNING" the generator will tell you how many characters in the password you have to enter. Added a password strength indicator field. When the strength indicator is set to "WARNING" the generator will tell you how many characters in the password you have to enter. Added a first name and last name fields for the user name. They can be set to Yes or No. Added a confirm password field Added a check box to confirm password field Added a check box to generate a UUID instead of a GUID when the confirmation checkbox is ticked When a language other than English or French is selected the generator will remember the selection. That means if you select French from the Start screen the form will start up in French in the next run. The default language is English. The App must have administrator rights in order to use it. Main Features: Unique identifiers: GUID, UUID Generate in the correct format (both GUID and UUID can be 24 chars long)
