Benefits of Lightburn: Lightburn with torrent can benefit you in the following ways:HIV-associated nephropathy is the leading cause of ESRD in the United States. The mainstay of treatment is replacement of the renal function by a renal allograft, but this is often unsuccessful. The major obstacle to using alternative strategies to obtain renal replacement is the lack of knowledge about the pathogenesis of HIV-associated nephropathy (HIVAN). This project will define the pathogenesis of HIVAN by focusing on the mechanisms of nephrin trafficking and retention in podocytes. Aim 1 will define the relationship between podocyte nephrin expression and endogenous retroviral element (ERE) methylation in cis. Loss of nephrin from the cell surface is essential for HIVAN. In addition, in a previous study we showed that EREs are highly methylated in the human nephrin gene, indicating that nephrin is an ERE target. We have defined a cis-element in the 3'UTR of nephrin that binds the Pumilo protein, an ERE silencer, and we propose to identify whether Pumilo binds the nephrin ERE. Aim 2 will define the epigenetic mechanisms involved in HIVAN. MIRNA (miR) mediated repression of nephrin expression in podocytes will be examined. NR overexpression in mouse podocytes will be used to define how miR contributes to the susceptibility of mice to HIVAN. In addition, we will define the possible role of the microRNA processing machinery by examining the effects of knocking down one of the proteins that are involved in processing miR, DICER, on nephrin expression. In Aim 3 we will determine the role of nephrin

In photonic crystals, states in the bandgap are customarily assigned random phases without regard for their spatial arrangement. This reduces the number of available states in periodic media, thereby limiting the achievable properties. Here, we report observation of phases in the electronic bandgap of a photonic crystal slab in which the eigenfunctions are strongly correlated. We create these states by electron irradiation and determine their spatial arrangement by scanning tunneling microscopy. We explain this effect as an energetically selective diffusion mechanism that dominates for high density defects. if (level 0) s += " and "; s += "lam(p) 1) s += " and "; s += "p>0"; if (level > 2) s += " and "; s += "sign(p)!= sign(f(p))"; if (level > 3) s += " and "; s += "lam(f(p))*lam(e79caf774b
