In the Lands Between, a war is raging and a new land has opened its gates. During the war, a special ring created by the Elder Gods is passed down to newly sworn in Elden Lords.

This ring has a power that can be used to tame beasts and overcome even the mightiest enemies. By equipping it with the Tarnished Body, this power is harnessed to grow you into a greater Elden Lord. You must first kill a rival lord's best soldiers to become the new king of the Lands Between. ABOUT EPIC DUNGEONS:

In the lands Between, a war is raging. This underground world of magic and destruction is filled with monsters, and the elite of the Elden Army must lead their troops to victory. Epic dungeons with a top-down perspective can be freely explored from their entrance. The seemingly endless dungeon will lead you to the heart of the castle, where a boss awaits.

SPIRAL RISE: BRAVE BRAVE EXISTENCE. A Second Twist to the World. A New Adventure to Start.

Frostmoon. Small Settlement. Fields, Mountains, Rivers.

A time has past

A hero of light, a hero of darkness.

That hero became time's protagonist to control the Third World.

The truth that is hidden behind the stone of that mountain.

A new conflict has begun.

Grantloxus is the Hero of Light?

Grantloxus resides in the center of the Mountain City and is the devout supporter of Frostmoon. His world is returned to order after the First World War and is living on an unyielding peace.

However, a dark force is once again emerging to threaten the world; and behind their coming is a Goddess.

A Goddess who has been sealed away for so long.

The rage born from her suppressed energy has unleashed. - Explosions that should not be possible - Even the sin that the Hero of Light could not imagine - The massive destruction of a large part of the world.

Over the thick clouds, the Knight-Commander of Light tells her tale of the defeat at the hands of Abyss, the Tower, and the Daughter of Suffering. The Keepers of the Elden Ring reveal the truth behind several urgent events, the dreaded Vampire Count who craves for Former Government IT contractor jailed for £30,000 by Published: 20 May 2004 A technology expert who was jailed for 16 months in Britain for selling secret military software has been detained for almost three weeks in Portugal for an unrelated financial crime. Paul Dacre was secretly arrested yesterday as he arrived at Lisbon airport and flown straight to a prison on the outskirts of Lisbon. He is still in custody in the capital and will remain there until a new extradition request from the British government is received and approved. Dacre was charged with "falsification of bank balance" after he left a court in Lisbon on March 19 while carrying a suitcase of documents, including a hard drive with 1,000 secret military programmes and manuals, as he was preparing to fly home to Britain. The 48-year-old, who lives in Bayswater, north London, was convicted in February of supplying the software, which is prohibited under the US sanctions bff6bb2d33
