I am looking for a polynomial time algorithm to find the maximum of a set of numbers. Assume we have numbers a_1, \dots, a_n such that $1 \leq a_1 \leq \dots \leq a_n$. What is the time complexity for finding the maximum of this set of numbers? How can the complexity of this be estimated in polynomial time? A: Assuming each a_i is given in binary notation, say in binary it's $(a_1 \ a_2 \ \dots \ a_n) = (d_1 \ d_2 \ \dots \ d_n)$, where $d_j = 0$ or 1 , and the bit width of d_i is m_i (bits). You can then construct an integer \tilde{a}_i by converting this vector to a sequence of m_i zeros and ones, where there is a 1 in the j -th row and column if $d_i = 1$. Each row of this matrix can be checked to see if there are any 1 s in any row and column whose span includes 1 s in at least one other row and column.
