The fate of [18F]DOPA is related to the level of L-aromatic amino acid decarboxylase in ischemic tissue. To elucidate the in vivo fate of [18F]DOPA ([18F]DOPA) in brain ischemic tissue, ex vivo experiments on rats were performed after rat brain ischemia. [18F]DOPA was injected into rats 5 min after the onset of ischemia induced by the left middle cerebral artery occlusion (MCAO). Each ischemic rat was sacrificed at 5, 15, 30 or 60 min

Field of the Invention The present invention relates to an electrostatic protection structure for a semiconductor device and a fabrication method thereof. More particularly, the present invention relates to an electrostatic protection structure for a semiconductor device including a gate pad in a multi-layered structure and a fabrication method thereof. 2. Description of the Related Art In recent years, an integrated circuit (IC) chip has been reduced in size and the need to protect the IC chip from an ESD (electrostatic discharge) has been increased. As shown in FIG. 1, a method for protecting an IC chip from an ESD is, for example, to implement an ESD protection circuit 7 in the form of a MOS transistor 7 having a drain coupled to a ground terminal 5 and a source coupled to an input/output terminal 6, and is then applied with an input signal at a gate terminal 4. This method is usually used when an IC chip is directly coupled to a printed circuit board. However, an ESD protection structure implemented by a conventional method is not applicable to semiconductor devices that may be coupled to a printed circuit board through a flexible printed circuit (FPC) tape. Thus, there is a need for an improved electrostatic protection structure for a semiconductor device including an FPC.Q: "Index was outside the bounds of the array" error - when pushing to array inside a loop I have a loop: for (var i = 0; i

Lego House and Lego Elephant day. We hear these two may in fact be considered the same thing. In any event I present to you another Lego House and a setup of minifig/lego characters. Onto Lego Elephant (1981)? One of the most difficult tasks for a Lego enthusiast is recognizing a legitimate old Lego set from the thousands of Minifigs from the 1970s through the 1980s that make up the vast majority of Lego sets (Lego house from 90s is a fraction of Lego Sets) The old school Lego houses (1980s houses and minifigs) that I have collected (Picture from my collection) First up a location: HellMondo - Hellmondo from a Lego house that came out in 1981. Setup A Location: Hellmondo Location: Hellmondo Location: A new and interesting set that I have never seen yet: The set features an ancient Sumerian priest-king and 3 priests and 2 priestesses. (Yes this is one of those minifigs being uncovered and set up) but the really interesting bit is that there is a dragon bound in gold and it awaits its doom. This funeral set was sold in sets of 2. It was a one color set. I like the ancient look but the distribution is odd. The cart was not doing nearly enough work. Also it is a bit of a throwback to Lego's glorious days of the 1970s before they started the "power break" that would eventually "save" Lego from what happened to other well known companies. Minifig placement. You would think that Legnosaur would be in the middle but instead he is in the side in bottom left corner? Left leg is on top! As you can see the location is a 1970s house with a black Lego snake in its mouth. Much like how Legos had a dinosaur in his mouth before. A bit of explanation of that Lego snake in my collection is that it is the set of 2 that you get when you purchase in bulk. I purchase most of my Lego when I get behind on a good brick buying schedule and they just get sealed and sit in a box waiting for another Lego collector to grow weary of them and buy them. I have bought thousands of these ancient sets with them being two separate colors in the early 1990s. One of the great things about Lego
