It is the center of the Gwangju metropolitan area which consists of Gwangju and some surrounding cities. It is easy to reach from Seoul, Busan and Daegu via high speed trains. The city of Gwangju has made great efforts to become a center of culture and tourism in the past 15 years. It is a lovely and hytale place to spend a vacation in the summer. The city is in the center of Korea, surrounded by the mountains in the south-east and the sea in the west. The views across the Seomjingang (beautiful river of the Han) are spectacular. There are parks, historical sites and ancient edifices that are attractive for tourists to visit. What's more, the climate in Gwangju is pleasant with an average temperature of 14 degrees. If you have a chance to come to this city, I highly recommend it. I had a wonderful time there and will be back in my next visit to Korea. Gwangju City history: Founded in AD 712, Gwangju was the capital of the Goryeo Kingdom from AD 918 to 1392. After the fall of the Kingdom, it was the hometown of General Yi Ha-E
