The in-game map editor allows you to add any items and change the landscape. With it, you can edit both standard maps and your own. The editor does not require an internet connection, but some of its features may still be limited. The editor supports saving maps in .wfg format and opening over the network. You don't need to create a new file each time with new map sizes, but you just need to add or change objects or terrain to an existing map file.
