If the Enable preview features checkbox is not checked, then the product does not include the preview features. Generally, we recommend that you enable preview features because they allow you to evaluate the product prior to purchase. In some cases, a product has preview features that are part of the product download, but is missing features that come at a later date (such as the ability to download 3D files via our Content Downloader Service). If you purchase a product with missing features, the missing features will be added when the additional features are made available. We are winding down our version of the TIBCO community. Your TIBCO account will be deactivated effective January 8, 2021. Please note that the TIBCO Customer Portal does not support the use of the Community Edition login credentials, as a result you will no longer be able to access TIBCO's customer portal or the TIBCO customer portal/eDelivery site. if you are currently running your application server on a machine with an active internet connection and the license key file has been downloaded, from the localhost url, press the return key to register. otherwise, press the return key. if you are using the community suite jasperreports-server license key, there is a specific location where you need to copy the license key file. it is possible to allow any user in the application server to read and write to this specific location. if you are running your application server on a machine with an active internet connection and the license key file has been downloaded, from the localhost url, press the return key to register. otherwise, press the return key.
