One of the best ways to bring professionalism to your web video making is with an industry-standard softphone. For the video editing market, the only choice is SilkPhone because its absolutely free, has all the features you need, and can be updated on-the-fly. With over 500 professional plug-ins, 5 types of compressors, 10 types of EQs, and hundreds of effects processors, including 15 multi-band parametric EQs, you get to work with professional grade plug-ins and no-compromises sound processing. You can increase your workflow productivity and unlock features like the new Automation Panel, Precision Tool, Match Meters, advanced Clip Gain Envelope controls, and more. The Ease of Use feature gives you quick access to your favorite tools, and our 3 built-in checklists help you build projects, organize your work, and get things done. Plus, you can automate just about every aspect of your workflow with extensive automation support. You now have the ability to create macros, export, import, and run audio and video clips from the Viewer directly to Capture sessions, as well as jump directly to any audiotrack or videoclip in your session, and control the playback and editing of that clip directly from the Viewer. So whether you are a complete beginner or an advanced user, Studio One 4 is suitable for everyone. The most powerful new feature in version 4.5 is the Studio One Remote tool. Remote is a powerful software tool for performing all aspect tasks of an application from another Studio One application. These tasks include, but are not limited to, keyboard shortcuts for all palettes, controls for all clips in a project, and clips in the system clipboard. It also allows you to easily place notes directly on the score. Working anywhere.
