

If you have a particular app you want to check out, you can also check out the store's Subscription section. This includes many of the same apps as the free store and movies, with either a free or paid option available. The apps are often sorted by categories, so you'll find a lot of your favorite apps here. But if you are a Prime member you have a lot more to watch. There are hundreds of thousands of Prime Video titles in Prime Video, including plenty of original programming, movies and TV series. Everything is available instantly to watch whenever you want, and you can watch as much of it as you want for free with your Prime membership. You can even buy or rent even more content with Amazon Coins, available in the hamburger menu > Coins. When you first open the Prime Video app you will see a Welcome screen, with links to Prime Music, Prime Books, Prime Photos, Prime Wearable and more. You will also see links to Watch Prime video on the web, and links to download movies and shows. I have friends that swear by Prime Video, because they can find what they want quickly and easily. Amazon is the perfect place to watch films that are not available in your local theater. With 4K Media, Amazon also offers Ultra HD content on Amazon Fire TV and Fire TV Stick. Users can purchase UHD movies and shows if they have access to a decent TV equipped with a Freeview HD tuner and a DVR with at least 60GB of free space. Prime Video isn't just for music and movies. It also has thousands of TV shows and specials from channels including BBC, CNN and Discovery, and it lets you watch them on Prime Video, even if you're not a Prime member. There are more than 10,000 TV shows from TV networks, including NBC, CBS, ABC, Fox, PBS, Discovery and Freeform.
