You have an image, and you want to bring back some of the color from the original image by using tinting and curves. You have four nodes to adjust in the Photoshop node graph for selecting a color. The first node in the node graph is the color box that sits on top of the image. The node graph is divided into the different areas of Photoshop. Inside the color box's properties you can modify the saturation, hue, or lightness of the original image. The second node is the lightness slider. The third node is the midtone slider.
